Flag of Belgium.

The Belgian flag perpetuates the colors of the duchy of Brabant, and was adopted when the monarchy was set up in 1531. The red, it should be noted by those who wish to use it correctly, forms the fly of the flag, the yellow the middle, and the black the hoist. The Russian Imperial navy flies the ancient blue saltire of St. Andrew on a white ground.

GOOD CATTLE SALE.

Mr. Alex Walker sold 40 head of silage fed cattle to Mr. Sim Weil, of Lexington for $7.25. The cattle averaged about 1165 pounds. W. B. Burton sold 24 head of nice fat ones that averaged 1188 pounds, to Mr. Weil, for $7.35 a hundred. These cattle were fed by Mr. Burton 117 days and during that time they "took on" 275 pounds each. This is about 2 1/2 pounds a day and is a pretty good record. They were fed corn, cotton seed meal, cut oats, and sorghum.

WHAT STAND WILL YOU TAKE?

We have reached an age, in which no one stands still in life, we must either advance or go backward.

The children who have enrolled in the Pony Contest show they are inclined to advance and are now bending every effort known to their young lives to secure the handsome pony outfit, which rightly is the chief desire of every energetic American boy or girl. The real loveable Shetland pony has no higher ambition than to claim a boy or a girl for his friend and associate, that he may bear their burdens, do their bidding, and contribute to their pleasure and lessen their sorrow. Safe and affectionate, and with a confiding innocence that frightens at nothing, he becomes a protection, and never a menace.

With childhood and ponyhood so blended, we feel there is naught for us to say—except the contest is yet young and there is plenty of time for energetic children to enter and by a little enthusiasm on their part, with the assistance of their friends they could force ahead and win.

Remember, however, this week will not be wasted by those who are already in the contest, the same will be the case in the following week and so on. So don't delay—but act today—nothing ever comes to those who wait. The difference between a hustler and a waiter is simply this—the hustler gets what he goes after, and the one who waits deserves just what he gets. What stand will you take?

The Record gives 1000 votes for every dollar paid on new or old subscription which is an effective way of increasing your standing, by securing subscriptions for us along with the votes secured by cash business with the merchants, you can easily cope the prize, and in so doing show the public the stand you have taken in life.

Rye Grass Long Cultivated.
Rye grass is believed to be the oldest grass specially raised for forage, having been thus cultivated in England more than two centuries ago.

Appeal for Help.
Ruth, who is two, was visiting her grandmother, with whom she was a little girl, when she was a very small child, but who was fond of her. One day when Ruth was seated on a porch bench the little boy came up and sat down close beside her. She tried every method to remove him and finally called in desperation to her grandmother: "O, grandma, please do come and help me; I'm too much squeezed."

Needed Explanation.
In an English police court an officer was giving evidence against a woman accused of robbing a pawnbroker, and assured the magistrate that, on his telling the prisoner the charge on which he had taken her, she "turned from him and swallowed a bed-tick, a pair of corsets, two brass candlesticks, a smoothing-iron, and a bellows!" "Nonsense! Have you lost your senses?" said the magistrate. "Your worship, 'tis the tickets for them, I mean, she swallowed."

ACORNS KILL CATTLE.

Many Animals Lost Every Year From Eating Oak Mast.

Farmers whose pastures include oak groves will do well to fence off the oak trees, for acorns are responsible each year for the death of many head of young stock.

Young cattle, particularly those under fifteen months of age, according to F. B. Hadley, veterinarian of the College of Agriculture, University of Wisconsin, are most subject to acorn poisoning. Sheep and hogs, apparently, are not affected even if they eat large quantities of the acorns, and mature cows seldom die from eating acorns, but their milk flow is usually diminished when feeding upon pastures in which acorns are available. Symptoms of acorn poisoning may not be seen until a fortnight after the acorns have been eaten. Then the animals become constipated, lose their appetites and cease to chew their cud. In the advanced stages intestinal irritation and diarrhea may set in and continue until the animals die.

As but little can be done in the way of treatment, it is all the more important that care be taken to prevent cattle from feeding on acorns. Half pound doses of common baking soda dissolved in water and given three times a day are useful in overcoming the tannic acid of the acorns, which is thought to be the poison responsible for this trouble.

Use of Silo Ideal Method.
As a means of utilizing the very highest amount of nutritive material contained in corn fodder and kaffir the use of the silo is the coming method. The sooner the cattlemen and feeders of the country accept this fact and get in line to adopt this most efficient means of enhancing the value of the corn and kaffir crops the better it will be for the farming interest of the whole country. There is no getting away from the fact that the silo is the ideal means of realizing the highest possible value on this class of crops.

JUDGE JOHN E. NEWMAN.

Announces His Candidacy For Railroad Commissioner.

In this issue of The Record will be found the formal announcement of Hon. John E. Newman of Bardonia, for Railroad Commissioner of this the Second District.

Following is what The Kentucky Standard, Judge Newman's home paper has to say of him in announcing his candidacy:

"It is a matter of great pleasure that The Standard learns authoritatively that Judge John E. Newman of this city has decided to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner of this the second District, which is composed of Jefferson, Franklin, Fayette and most of the counties in Central Kentucky.

Considering the great importance of this office, and the services to be rendered by this commission to the people of the State, when rightly and intelligently administered, it ought to be a source of congratulation to the voters of this district and State, when a man so splendidly and exceptionally well equipped to render effective and valuable service to the people, offers himself as a candidate for this office.

By education, long training, and actual experience in doing the work of this commission, no man in the State of Kentucky possesses higher qualifications than Judge Newman for performing the responsible duties of this office.

More than eighteen years of his life have been spent in connection with the various departments of railroads. He is thoroughly familiar with cost of railroad construction and operation, and especially is he familiar with, and an expert in, the matter of railroad rates.

The adjustment of railroad rates, so as to be just to the shippers of the State, and at the same time not unjust to the railroad is one of the most delicate and difficult tasks with which the Railroad Commission has to deal and unless the members thereof possess considerable technical knowledge on this subject, they are powerless to deal with it effectively, however intelligent they may be on other lines.

It is a knowledge that can be acquired by the most capable man only after months and years of hard labor. Judge Newman has spent more than ten years of his life in the actual and practical solution of these problems, and by reason of his profound and intimate knowledge of these matters, Mr. C. C. McCord, (now a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission) when he was Chairman of the Kentucky Railroad Commission, induced Mr. Newman to take charge of its rate department, in which capacity he rendered valuable service until the Republicans secured control of the commission.

It is perhaps not too much to say that no office in the State requires a higher degree of technical knowledge, that valuable and effective work may be done for the people, than does that of Railroad Commissioner. A man may be ever so honest, courageous, and capable in a general way, yet unless he has some special training for this work, he can do very little good. Judge Newman is honest, he is capable, he is courageous, and no man in the State is better equipped by special training for this work than he. He is bred in legal lines, and inherits a natural legal mind, being the son of that able lawyer and distinguished jurist, Judge John E. Newman, the author of a law book entitled "Newman on Pleading and Practice," which is highly valued by the legal profession. He could step right into the office this day and perform all of its functions with exceptional ability. We do not believe the people of this district could find a man better suited by private worth, exalted character and special training for this office than Judge Newman, and as such we cordially commend him to the voters thereof."

RECORD PRICE FOR MULES.

The record price for mules this season was made on Monday when Mr. Bruce Taylor sold to Jesse Tudor, of Madison county, a pair of fine mules for $525. This price has not been beaten this so far as can be learned, and it is believed to have set a record that will be hard to pass.

Mr. Charles Thompson, of Lexington also found that his home market could not satisfy his needs so he went to Winchester and during the early morning, Monday, he purchased eight or ten head of mules at prices ranging from $360, to $450, a pair.—Democrat.

TOBACCO GROWERS

ATTENTION.

Lexington, Ky. March 6, 1915.

To the Tobacco Growers:

Doubtless you have heard of the meeting at Lexington on last Tuesday. If you have not, you had better find out about it. It is the only thing that promises to make the coming crop sell better than the past one did. Are you willing to have another season as disastrous as the past one? If not, get into the organization and help to do what we can to improve conditions.

The reports to the papers indicate that more tobacco will be raised this year than ever. Listen to the reports of the weekly farm edition of the Lexington Herald: From Clark, "Many tobacco beds seeded; from Scott, "Farmers make ready to grow more tobacco, lessons to the past brushed aside; from Nicholas, "Preparations indicate that another crop equal in size to the last one will be grown this year; from Bracken, "Everything points to big crops this year, notwithstanding both a reduction and a cutout were talked of." An organization to sell this tobacco is the only hope. Are you in?

The organization was formed at Lexington March 2nd by which every grower gets a vote in the election of officers and a say in the selection of a plan. By it the growers elect on the last Saturday in August of each year their county officers and a delegate to the district board. There will be a meeting Saturday, March 13th, in many counties for the purpose of discussing the plan, and there will be another district meeting in Lexington on the following Tuesday at which your county ought to be represented. Send a good delegation and if no meeting can be had for the purpose of electing a delegation, come yourself; you will be welcomed to a seat on the floor and a voice in the deliberations of the body. You can then take the news back to your people.

The Lexington meeting of March 2nd adopted no plan, feeling that it was something that could be best done by a committee after careful investigation; but there was much discussion of this matter, and letters were read from the biggest buyers which indicated a desire to aid in the formation of an organization that would remedy conditions which they admit are bad, if it will at the same time protect the buyers from a fluctuating market and make sure that one manufacturer does not get his supplies cheaper than the other.

They declared that the manufacturer could make as much money on a high market as on a low one, provided he purchased on an equality with his competitors. They also indicated that there was no serious difficulty in an organization selling your tobacco directly to the buyers at prices much better than are now being received. A plan based on these facts seemed most popular at the meeting; but in case no such plan could be practiced, it seemed to be the consensus of opinion that a cut-out was the thing to do.

This office will be glad to answer all inquiries promptly upon any point so long as we are able.

Yours for the cause,
LUCIEN BECKNER,
Secretary Tobacco Growers' Association.

LANCASTER

To the Business Men of

LANCASTER

When a good salesman goes out after business, he first puts on a clean collar and gets his shoes shined. Then he looks like more business—and he's made a flying start toward getting it.

Likewise, a community can go after more business—and get it. The "clean collar and shiny shoes" of this town are the well-painted stores, the bright, cheery homes, the fresh, clean-looking buildings. The paint plays in building up local pride cannot be put in figures—but its good effects are recorded on the local merchants' sales sheets. Buy good paint. We recommend and sell

RULES FOR THE PONY COMMERCIAL CONTEST.

RULE 1. Any child not over sixteen years of age who is not a child or grandchild or niece or nephew of any of the participating merchants, may become a Contestant in the Pony Commercial Contest by enrolling his or her name at the places of business of all of the merchants who are joint participants in this Contest.

RULE 2. For all money paid to any of the participating merchants during the progress of this Contest, either on old accounts or on cash business, 25 votes shall be given for each 25 cents so paid: 10 vote coupons and 5 vote coupons may be used at the discretion of the merchant.

RULE 3. The only exception to the above rule is that in case a newspaper is participating, said newspaper may give out 1000 votes for every dollar paid on new or old subscriptions, but said newspaper shall award the regulation number of votes for all other revenues of its office.

RULE 4. Under no condition shall the schedule mentioned above be changed nor shall any additional votes be awarded by any merchant at any time during the progress of the Contest. No coupons except those printed by The Contest Company shall be considered valid coupons.

RULE 5. A sealed ballot box shall be placed in the store or office of each participating merchant for the reception of said votes. Said box shall be opened by said merchant in exactly two week from the date on which this Contest starts. The votes contained in said box shall be counted by him or by parties selected by him and the result of said counting shall be kept a secret.

RULE 6. Said ballot box shall be opened every two weeks thereafter during the progress of the Contest; the ballots counted in like manner and the result thereof kept a secret.

RULE 7. As an incentive to the early casting of votes and to facilitate the counting thereof, the following bonuses shall be given. The votes cast for each Contestant during the first period shall be increased by 50 per cent. In other words, if Contestant A has 100,000 votes and Contestant B 90,000 votes, 50 per cent shall be added to the vote of each so that A will be credited with 150,000 and B with 135,000 votes.

RULE 8. The votes cast for each Contestant during the second period shall be increased by 40 per cent the votes cast for each Contestant during the third period shall be increased by 30 per cent; the votes cast for each Contestant during the fourth period shall be increased 20 per cent; the votes cast for each Contestant during the fifth period shall be increased 10 per cent; the votes cast for each Contestant during the last period shall not be increased at all.

RULE 9. At the conclusion of the Contest three disinterested judges shall be selected by said merchants, who shall tabulate the results certified to them by each participating merchant and shall award the Grand Prize of the Shetland Pony, Vehicle and Harness to the child who has received the greatest number of votes.

RULE 10. Each merchant agrees to carefully keep his records and not to divulge the contents thereof of any Contestant, to any of their friends or to any other participating merchant. By so doing no one will know who is in the lead at any stage of the Contest.

The following boys and girls have expressed a desire for the pony and cart and they or their friends have entered their names as contestants. In trading with the different merchants and business men, whose names appear below this, be sure and get a coupon and vote for your favorite.
